

7 Ways to Shift Your Mindset Checklist

Here are seven ways to unlock your potential and shift your mindset:

- Be grateful. Live each day appreciating what you do have and leave a positive imprint no matter where you go.
- Focus on the now. Refrain from future scenario planning. Stop getting yourself worked up about things outside of your control. Focus on what's in your control.
- Increase your confidence. You must believe in yourself, trust yourself, and honor who you are. Take back your control. Don't give your power to someone else.
- Overcome resistance. The more we understand how we react to adverse situations, the more we notice triggers and can face our obstacles head-on. Don't give up.
- Be open. Take a different approach if things aren't turning out the way you want them to. Be open to learning and adapting.
- Develop new skills. Invest in yourself. Look for a YouTube video, online class, or ask a friend or colleague who is skilled at what you're trying to learn to help you.
- Think small, accomplish big. Take small steps in the direction you want to go. Dedicate the energy and time, be open and positive. It may take time but stay committed. Patience is key.